Outflanking Drive Carries British 23 Miles On Peninsula

Germans Defending Cherbourg Against Americans On the Port, Counter-Attack With Fighting In Streets of Montebourg

CAEN UNDER HEAVY BOMBARDMENT OF WARSHIPS

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14—(AP)—The Germans have flung four armored divisions into fierce fighting to hold their eastern battleline bastion of Caen, the Allied command announced tonight, and heavy fighting is raging at Montebourg and Troarn at opposite ends of the 100-mile front with both towns changing hands in the last 24 hours.

The savage German counteraction on the eastern flank in Normandy followed a British drive 23 miles inland outflanking Caen from the west, and the armored struggle is rising in intensity.

The four Nazi armored divisions were hurled into the area between Caen and Caumont, 20 miles southwest, seized in the hard British punch.

The U. S. Fourth Division fought the Germans fiercely for Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of the strategic port of Cherbourg, and the great guns of the British battle-ships Rodney and Ramillies thundered in support of the British fight to hold Troarn, town seven miles from Caen taken in an outflanking drive on that bastion to the east.

Caen itself was under heavy naval bombardment from Allied warships. A fiercer blow flew over the city said it seemed "scarcely possible for life to exist there." Villers-Bocage stands athwart a main highway to Caen, 16 miles to the southwest. Caumont, seven miles west and slightly north of Villers-Bocage, commands a secondary route, also leading to Caen. The British tanks struck with "great effect," the Allied supreme command announced.

BULLETIN

London, June 14—(P)—The Berlin radio said tonight that "heavy and super heavy Allied naval guns shelled Le Havre today." There was no Allied confirmation of the report. Le Havre is about 20 miles north-east of the eastern edge of the present beachhead in Normandy.

A fierce German counter-attack was made on British forces in newly-captured Troarn in an attempt to blunt or cut off a Montgomery pincers coming to flank Caen on the east.

It was the old Montgomery tactic of attacking on the flanks to cut off a large force of Germans and take them prisoner or destroy them rather than push them back. On the western end of the Allied beachhead, no enlarged to a 100-mile fighting front, Americans used armored forces to break a deadlock at Caumont, six miles from the sea. The German radio acknowledged a Nazi withdrawal.

INCREASING ENEMY PRESSURE SOUTH OF ORBETELLO SECTOR SLOWS UP FIFTH ARMY PUSH

Gains Reported on Both East and West of Lake Bolsena and Around Narni

EIGHTH ON THE MARCH

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Rome, June 14—(AP)—Fifth Army elements have swung around the heavily defended strong point of Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, and captured the important junction of Highways Nos. 1 and 74, some four and a half miles beyond the town, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Reconnaissance elements pushed still farther north.

"In the coastal sector our troops have encountered increased resistance south of Orbetello, developed their strength in the mountains and late June 12 cut the road junction of Highway Nos. 1 and 74. Reconnaissance elements are moving farther north," said a headquarters communique.

(This movement presumably blocked the retreat of the Germans defending Orbetello.)

To the east, the Eighth Army advanced 60 miles north of Rome.

Gains were also made both east and west of Lake Bolsena and Allied troops were closing in on Narni, seven and a half miles below Rome and 43 miles due north of Rome.

The town of Terni, four miles northeast of Valentano, was gathered in by Fifth Army units and the advance moved on toward Gradoli, less than two miles farther northeast.

Other Fifth Army forces were closing in on Bolsena, on the eastern shore of the lake.

Meanwhile the Eighth Army continued to march up the Tiber (Turn to Page Seven)

Reports of Heavy Three-Day Strike Toward Philippines Acknowledged in Tokyo

13 JAP VESSELS SUNK

By J. B. KRUEGER

Associated Press War Editor

Big guns as well as a swarm of carrier planes poured explosives on U. S.-owned Guam and other Marianas islands during the heavy three-day strike against these enemy defenses flanking the Philippines, Tokyo radio acknowledged today.

Adm. Chester Nimitz, commander in the central Pacific, reported the carrier task force sank 13 Japanese ships, damaged 16 and destroyed 141 planes, but did not claim that surface ships bombarded the islands. Nimitz did not say, either, that the hold foray into Japan's inner defenses had been concluded.

He and Tokyo agreed that Guam, Saipan and Tinian islands of the group lying approximately 1,500 miles south of Japan were the principal targets. Guam, southernmost and largest of the group, was seized by the Japanese in the first six days of the Pacific war. MacArthur's troops continued (Turn to Page Seven)

Boys On Beachhead Afraid Home Folks Too Optimistic

By DON WHITEHEAD

With American troops in France, June 14—(P)—The night-mare days of the beachhead landing are past, but everywhere I find the troops afraid that the people at home are too optimistic.

We hear that the reaction to the beachhead fighting in both England and the United States is that the war is all over except for a few messy details and that the public's feelings have bounced like a rubber ball.

They should be feeling good that the Allies grabbed a hold on the continent without the blood bath that many predicted. Actually, there was only one sector of the American front where there was any bitter fighting getting across the beaches—and that was where the fighting First Division and elements of the 29th smashed German divisions into a reinforced German division waiting on the beach.

DeGaulle Act Impedes Drive Into Normandy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 13—(P)—In the final hours before the start of the invasion of France, General Charles De Gaulle is reported to have suddenly cancelled the orders of several hundred French officers scheduled to land with the first wave of Allied troops.

Reports from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters to the highest military officials here disclosed today that as a result, cooperation between the French population and Allied armies has been impaired in the occupied Normandy areas.

This is true, according to officials who are investigating the situation now, even though De Gaulle finally relented to the extent of allowing twenty French officers to go along with the forces assigned to liberate their homeland.

De Gaulle's action with respect to the officers is said to be probably the most important new factor entering into the background of a proposed meeting between President Roosevelt and the leader of the French National Committee here either late this month or early in July.

ORDER OF POLICE WILL ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

Johnstown, June 14—(P)—Delegates to the eighth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Fraternal Order of Police balloted today on officers for the 1944-45 term.

Martin O'Toole of Pittsburgh, the incumbent, and Fred McCallum of Philadelphia were the candidates for president. In the only other contest, Edward Gilson of Meadville and Samuel Painter of Harrisburg vied for the post of recording secretary.

Motion Holds Up Conspiracy Trial

Washington, June 14—(P)—Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of U. S. District Court agreed today to hear oral arguments Monday on a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for the 29 defendants in the mass sedition conspiracy case. Defense attorneys will base their arguments on the supreme court's decision last Monday overruling the espionage conviction of Elmer Hartzell of Chicago.

Rogge, chief prosecutor, said he would outline "some of the highlights" of the government's case and show "specific intent" on the part of the defendants to conspire to impair the morale of the armed forces.

Jackson commented that the indictment in the sedition case "wouldn't have been returned" if the Hartzell decision had been made at the time.

Petition of Forge Employees Dismissed

Washington, June 14—(P)—The National Labor Relations Board today dismissed a petition for investigation and certification of representation of employees of National Forge and Ordnance Company, Irvine, Warren County, Pa., filed by United Steelworkers of America (CIO).

The dismissal followed an election at which no collective bargaining representative was selected by a majority of the employees, NLRB said.

LONG RUSSIAN FRONT ABLAZE WITH ACTION

Red Army Troops Advance Within Thirty Miles of Important Port of Viipuri

NEAR MANNERHEIM LINE

London, June 14—(P)—Red army troops have advanced to within 30 miles of the important port of Viipuri, crushing Finnish troops resisting from strongly fortified positions, Moscow announced today and enemy reports said Russia's whole northern front from the Arctic to the White Sea and Gulf of Finland was ablaze with action.

Finnish and German radio broadcasts declared the Russians were attacking in the Lissa sector between the Arctic ports of Murmansk and Petsamo, and Berlin asserted Soviet forces also were striking southwest of Narva in Estonia.

Moscow communique was restricted to the Karelian Isthmus fighting, saying Soviet troops captured several Finnish strongpoints during yesterday's battling.

The Russians are within 20 miles of the Mannerheim line, main defense barrier across the Karelian isthmus, Moscow bulletins indicated, after clearing the second belt of approaches.

Finnish sources relayed through Stockholm said that stout resistance was confronting the Russians in the Kivnappas sector, with the Vammelsu river front still intact.

One dispatch from Helsinki via Stockholm said some sections of the Finnish press advocated a defend-or-die spirit, but other sources said the Finns, resentful of lack of German aid, were ready to evacuate not only Viipuri but virtually the entire isthmus.

Bricker Forces Claim Over 250 On First Ballot

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer
A prediction came today from the forces of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio that he "will receive between 250 and 300 votes on the first ballot" at the Republican presidential nominating convention.

This report, supplied by directors of the field staff of the Bricker-for-President committee, accorded their man a total of 174 votes now—50, pledged and 124 definitely claimed—and figured the total for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York at 285—72 pledged and 213 "probable." Dewey supporters, on the other hand say he has a total of 291.

Five hundred and twenty-nine votes are needed to nominate and the Bricker people viewed the field of uninstructed delegates as fruitful and said the Ohioan is "growing stronger each day."

The "first ballot analysis" from the Bricker camp came as the election of a Republican to congress from the 19th Illinois district shuffled house standings to the point that for the first time in 13 years the Democrats lack an actual majority of the house membership.

Sensational Charges Made In Report On Pearl Harbor

Washington, June 14—(P)—A congressional committee's inquiry into delayed defense preparations at Pearl Harbor produced a report today highlighted by descriptions of yachting parties given for the army colonel in charge of construction in Hawaii by a German-born contractor who held war department contracts for the work.

The report, by the house military committee, called on the army for "further explanation" of what it termed "mismanagement" on the part of Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., and why the contracts had been awarded to Hans Wilhelm Kohl, then a German alien, although he had been a resident of the United States since 1913. He was naturalized, the committee said, only three months before the sneak Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Harder Blows Coming Says Eisenhower

Washington, June 14—(P)—Mighty Allied offensives are in the making to smash into Nazi Europe on all fronts.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave the world—including Hitler's part of it—a glimpse of coming invasions in a special report to President Roosevelt yesterday which called the present fighting:

"Only part of the far larger pattern of a combined assault against the fortress of Germany by the great Russian armies from the east and our forces from the Mediterranean."

Mr. Roosevelt read the report from the Allied commander to a quiet news conference. In his reading he emphasized the general's words that last week's smash across the English channel was "a mere beginning."

The Allied commander said the cross-channel operation was "attended by hazards and difficulties greater, I believe, than have ever before faced an invading army."

But we have won a foothold upon northwestern France, he declared. "Through the opening thus made, and through others yet to come, the flood of our fighting strength must be poured."

The general paid tribute to American, British and Canadian troops who were untried in battle before they went into the invasion. He called their performance "a particularly satisfying feature of the fighting."

Lad Confesses To Shooting His Girl

Springfield, Mass., June 14—(P)—Police Chief Raymond P. Gallagher said today that a 15-year-old boy had confessed to the fatal shooting of schoolmate Carolyn Bennett, 14, because she had been "going out with other boys."

Gallagher identified the youth as William Roach, whose uncle, S. Everett Cook, is assistant principal at Forest Park Junior High school where both youngsters studied.

He said the boy was arrested by police in downtown Springfield a few hours after Carolyn's body was found in Forest Park not far from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bennett. Bennett formerly was a member of the Springfield city council.

The police chief quoted the boy girl into Forest Park on his bicycle around 8:30 last night.

Fortresses and Liberators Split Up and Attack Oil Refinery at Emmerich, Germany

'ROUND CLOCK MISSION

By GLADWIN HILL

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14—(AP)—Fifteen hundred U. S. heavy bombers—the greatest single striking force in air history—attacked France and Germany today in concert with up to 750 American heavies which struck Hungary and Yugoslavia from Italy.

The oil lifelines for Hitler's thirsty war machine were hit hard, part of the big task force from Britain hitting the oil refinery at Emmerich, Germany, while the Mediterranean force attacked half a dozen oil refineries in Hungary and Yugoslavia—including the Shell Koolaz, five miles south of Budapest, the largest in Hungary.

A Berlin broadcast said that U. S. bombers today attacked Budapest "and environs as well as several provincial places and industrial plants" in Hungary.

Other Britain-based Fortresses and Liberators aimed their bombs at six enemy air bases beyond the beachhead in the unrelenting campaign to wipe out nests of German air force opposition. Others hit bridges in France and Belgium.

Supreme headquarters announced that in the first seven days of invasion 56,000 individual flights were made by the Allied air forces with the loss of 554 planes—less than one percent of the attacking force.

In that time 42,000 tons of bombs were dropped. The Eighth air force led with about 16,000 sorties and the Ninth had 15,500.

The American force, aggregating upwards of 1,500 bombers and fighters, attacked among other targets the Le Bourget and Creil air fields at Paris, Etampes-Mondeir and Chateaudun in France; Brussels-Melsbroeck and Eindhoven in Belgium.

Meanwhile, another American heavy bomber force, the German radio said, surged up from Italy for an attack on Hitler's Europe, which underwent heavy attacks from the south in the Munich area both yesterday and today.

Resistance Of Underground Is Increasing

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

Madrid, June 14—(P)—Reports out of underground France asserted today that a methodic, persistent rising by the greater part of the French nation is undermining the Germans' best laid plans to hold the Allied invasion.

These allies, filtering through many points on the Franco-Spanish frontier and through diplomatic channels, said that guerrillas in the organized underground were actively leading the French in making trouble and yet more trouble for the Germans.

That the Germans recognized the danger was demonstrated by an order placing 11 departments in central France and parts of southern France under martial law.

Police Round Up Youthful Bike Thieves

Members of the Warren police department, and the Sheriff's office during the past few days have rounded up a group of six boys from 14 to 16 who for some months have been engaged in stealing of bicycles. The boys were skillful operators and changed wheels on the various bikes, filed off serial numbers, painted some, changed tires on others and sold several of the wheels to unsuspecting persons. In all 10 bicycles have been recovered together with an assortment of tires, spare parts for bicycles and other accoutrements. One wheel stolen a year ago was brought to light.

The arrest of the gang, all of whom with one exception reside outside the borough limits came about through the keen eyes of Joseph DeAngelo, 114 North Carver street. His bicycle was stolen some time ago and he saw another machine which looked familiar to him in certain parts. Notifying the police, Lieut. M. Evan and Sheriff Linder went to the boys home over the borough line.

Investigation and questioning brought first one boy into the hands of the law and then another until the whole gang had been rounded up.

All of the boys have confessed their part in the affair to the officers and they will be taken into juvenile court soon.

LEAVE FOR NAVY
Several young men from Warren were included in the group of 19 enlistees leaving Jamestown Tuesday for final physical examinations in Buffalo. They were John Gabriel Chimenti, 701 Pennsylvania avenue, east; Lewis Russell Sanden, 622 Beech street; Anthony Robert Regina, 400 Hazel street; Garvin Robert Madigan and William Frederick Bauer, both of Clarendon RD 1.

CHANCE TO HELP
Edward Barney, of Rankin street, home on a brief leave from the navy, visiting his parents had the misfortune to lose his wallet last evening. The wallet contained $3 in money and the young man's papers. He stated this morning that he was not worried over the loss of the money but unless he has his navy cards he will have a term in "the brig" on his return. He has to leave this evening at 8 o'clock for his port and anyone finding the pocketbook is urged to get the navy card back to him to save him trouble.

GASOLINE TAKEN

Some person evidently shy of gasoline coupons broke into the tool house of the Emmons Wade Oil Company, near Russell Field, and took two cans of gasoline that had been stored there. Nothing else in the shed was molested and the work was evidently that of some person familiar with the storage of gasoline there.

IRVINE GRADUATES

Eighth grade students of the Irvine school graduated in the 16th annual commencement exercises were Margaret Cooper, Betty Lou Eaton, Mary Keller, Marilyn Thompson, Iola Weaver, Donna Bell Whiteman, Edward Lawson, Robert Armstrong, Melvin Hagg, David Johnson, Andrew Randall, and Elwood Sandberg.

TREE DAMAGED

A portion of a tree at 110 Dartmouth street fell during the night and carried down an electric wire, which was highly charged. The police in making their rounds discovered the situation which was dangerous due to the wet pavements and employees of the Penn Electric Company were called, along with men from the city's park department. The wire was placed under control and the park department removed the obstruction to the street.

CARS IN COLLISION

Cars driven by James Nagle, 73 Summit street, Jamestown, and Henry J. Fasenmyer, 309 Laurel street, crashed on Pennsylvania avenue, east, last night about 9:15. According to reports Fasenmyer was driving west when he saw some person on the sidewalk that he new. Watching them, he crossed the center of the street and struck the Nagle car. Fasenmyer assumed all damages and later was arrested by the police on a charge of reckless driving.

Priest To Sing 1st Mass Here Next Sunday

Plans have been completed by two former members of the Catholic Diocese of Erie for the singing of their first solemn masses on Sunday, June 18, one such celebration to be in St. Joseph's church, this city.

The celebrant will be Father Bartholomew F. Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sweeney, of Russell, who, with Father Raphael L. McDonald, of Oil City, was ordained to the priesthood of the Order of Friars Minor on Sunday morning, June 11, in the Franciscan Monastery church of Mt. Saint Sepulchre in Washington, D. C.

The celebrant will be Father Bartholomew F. Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sweeney, of Russell, who, with Father Raphael L. McDonald, of Oil City, was ordained to the priesthood of the Order of Friars Minor on Sunday morning, June 11, in the Franciscan Monastery church of Mt. Saint Sepulchre in Washington, D. C.

Both Father Sweeney and Father McDonald attended St. Bonaventure's previous to joining the Order of Friars Minor. As fellow novices they made their novitiate in St. Bonaventure's monastery at Paterson, N. J., and together they pursued scholastic studies in Holy Name province's school of philosophy in Croghan and Butler, N. J. In 1941 they entered Holy Name College in Washington, D. C.

In the fall of that year, the Most Rev. John M. McNamara, V.G., auxiliary bishop of Washington and Baltimore, conferred clerical tonsure and minor orders upon them in the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception.

Elevation to the subdiaconate, by the Most Rev. Michael P. Keves, S.M., titular bishop of Areopolis, took place in May, 1943. In the following September he ordained them deacons in the crypt of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception on the campus of the Catholic University of America in Washington.

Instructions On Writing To War Prisoners

A number of questions have been asked by friends of prisoners-of-war and civilian internees, as to whether or not they may write to prisoners-of-war. The regulations state that anyone may write to a prisoner-of-war where the address is known definitely. There is no limitation of letters which a prisoner or civilian internee may receive, however there is a definite limitation on the number of letters which a prisoner-of-war may write each month. Letters to prisoners and civilian internees of the Japanese must be confined to twenty-four words. No limitation is placed on the length of a letter to a prisoner of the Germans, however it is requested the letters be kept brief. They must not contain any information of military, political, or religious nature. They must be hand printed or typed for the benefit of censors of the various countries where the mail is handled.

Packages may be sent by nearest of kin—one every sixty days upon receipt of formal package slips from the Provost Marshal General's office. One 5 lb. package of books may be sent direct from the book seller and books are restricted as to their contents.

An emergency cable may be sent through the American Red Cross to a prisoner-of-war, to any territory except Java.

It is hoped that the above general information will be of assistance to the people in the community who are interested.

Local Player Joining Team At Allentown

"Jerry" Vesling, well known young infielder with the Struthers Wells team and one of the most promising players to emerge from the sandlots of Warren in years, left last evening for Allentown to join the team representing that town in the Interstate League.

Vesling has been playing at short and third for the Struthers, appearing in his final game for the locals at Titusville last Sunday. He is a former Warren High school football player, and was one of the main supports of the Stoneham-Clarendon team in the City League a few years ago. He is 17 years old.

His many friends have confidence that he will make the grade with Allentown. Other teams in the league are York, Lancaster, Wilmington, Hagertown and Trenton.

Book Game Is Library Plan For Students

"You're in the army now" will soon be the slogan for Warren school children interested in the "Book Army Game" being sponsored by the Warren Public Library for the summer vacation season—or it may be they will elect to register for some other branch of service being represented by the game.

This new form of entertainment, which got under way Monday and continues through August 12, is based on the following rules and regulations:

1. Boys may join the Army, the Army Air Corps, the Navy or the Marines.
2. Girls may join the Wacs, the Waves, the Spars or the Marines.
3. Anyone joining at the school may not join at the library.
4. 48 points are required to attain the highest rank in each division.
5. To become a lieutenant or a warrant officer, a recruit must read one book from the reading list for 3 of the 8 points necessary for that rank.
6. If a boy or girl attains a top rank before the contest closes, he or she may enlist in another branch of the service.
7. Oral reports must be given to Miss Beryl Granger or Miss Georgia Spianey for each book read, when it is returned.

A list is posted at the public library and in each school, giving the ranks and points necessary to attain each rank.

A prize will be awarded to top ranking officers and to the person who reads the largest number of books during the contest period.

Prizes will be awarded in the fourth and fifth grade groups and in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade groups.

FARM NEWS

Harrisburg, June 14—(P)—Pennsylvania farmers planted nearly 90,000 more acres of corn this year than in 1943. W. Clayton Jester, chief of field operations for the agricultural adjustment agency in Pennsylvania, said today.

"The anticipated corn acreage for 1944 is about 25,000 acres in excess of the goal set up for the state by the Pennsylvania goals conference last fall," asserted Jester.

He attributed the increase to a desire on the part of farmers to protect themselves against a possible feed shortage during the coming winter.

"With supplies in the ever-normal granary scraping bottom, farmers throughout the state were aroused to a point where they decided to utilize every acre for grain feed this year," Jester added.

Corn planting will help to solve the feed situation, but will also present a danger to the state in the matter of soil erosion, John A. Smith, state A.A.A. secretary pointed out in connection with the crop increase.

"Unless sound conservation practices are following, we can destroy in one year a great deal of the progress we have made in soil conservation during the past ten years," he said.

To help control the disastrous effects of erosion in corn and other cultivated crops the A.A.A. authorized a winter cover crop bonus as part of the state agricultural conservation program. Farmers who sow domestic rye grass in the last working of corn or any cultivated row crop will receive $2 per acre in conservation payment to meet the cost of seed.

"These payments," explained Smith, "are expected to encourage farmers to protect the soil from the effects of erosion during the fall and winter months."

"Rye grass has been found to be one of the best cover crops, since its roots and blades form a protecting blanket against fall and winter rains, the blanket holding the soil on the hillsides and halting erosion."

Maple sugar production in Pennsylvania approached a new record this spring with an increase of more than 300,000 pounds over 1943, the federal-state crop reporting service, disclosed.

"Northern tier counties experienced the heaviest run of sap since 1936," said E. L. Asteiger, statistician in the division of crop reporting.

"The first run of sap was better than average, both as to quality and quantity," added Asteiger, "and only a shortage of labor prevented the grove owners from setting a new mark in sugar production."

In terms of sugar Pennsylvania produced over one million pounds, despite a reduction of 11,000 trees tapped in 1944 as compared with last year.

The trees tapped this year yielded 133 gallons of syrup, or 38,000 gallons more than in 1943, another indication of the extensive sap flow this spring.

To the People of this Community

Display of the flag and bond buying go hand in hand. You render only lip service when you hoist the national banner today and then do nothing to keep it a symbol of freedom.

In the invasion zones the men from this community know the full price of the American flag in blood and tears. To them it means their homes their families and their very bodies. For the flag they die.

What better day than Flag Day for you at home, safe and comfortable, far away from the screaming battlefields, to make a genuine sacrifice in buying extra War Bonds more than you ever bought before? Doff your hat to the flag and to the men who fight for it by going without even the suggestion of a luxury until the war is won, until our invading forces have torn into shreds the twin symbols of hatred and treachery, the Rising Sun and the Swastika.

Buy extra Bonds today, not for the profit that is in them, but for the practical patriotism they represent. That's the real way to observe Flag Day.

DON'T TRAVEL

This is the third summer that the Office of Defense Transportation has asked the public not to travel during their vacations. And this year the request is more than ever serious and necessary. Troop movements now total 1,500,000 a month. And soon, unfortunately, there will be a two-way traffic when casualties start coming back to hospitals and homes from overseas. Furlough and war business travel remain heavy.

Perhaps more immediately impressive than figures are the promises of discomfort. Half of the country's Pullmans and a third of its coaches are in full wartime service. The rest are carrying a peak load. So if you plan to go vacationing by train you can confidently expect some or all of the following experiences:

You will have to stand all the way to your destination; there will be no air-conditioned cars; you will wait long for dining car meals—if you get 'em; you will have to carry your own baggage; your train will likely be late.

Here is the picture of what has happened to American transportation so far in this year:

In 1918 there were 61,000 passenger cars—54,000 day coaches and 7,000 pullmans—and they traveled 43 billion passenger miles. In 1943 there were only 45,000 passenger cars. They traveled 87 billion passenger miles.

This was twice the traveling of 1918 when there were 16,000 more passenger cars.

The reason for the decrease in cars: Starting in the 1920's, the automobile and bus drained off travelers from the railroads. With fewer passengers, the roads did not replace worn out equipment.

The number of passengers carried—not to be confused with passenger miles—by the railroads in 1943 was 855 million. This will show the increasing load on inter-city buses:

In 1941 they traveled 13 billion miles, carrying 395 million persons; in 1942 it was 22 billion miles and 680 million passengers; in 1943 it was 29 billion miles and 975 million passengers.

Think it over and you may agree with the ODT that for a wartime vacation there's no place like home.

'THRO' THE PERILOUS FIGHT

Exercises appropriate to the importance of the occasion have been arranged by the Warren Lodge of Elks in observance of Flag Day, with a parade scheduled at seven o'clock this evening followed by the impressive ritualistic services on the lawn of the club house. The public is cordially invited to attend and this year, more than ever before, every citizen should feel it a patriotic duty to be present.

The most thrilling of many thrilling D-Day sights, said an Army photo reconnaissance pilot, was an American flag flying over a French town soon after the first landings.

It is good to be thrilled by the sight of the flag. Too often, in too many years, we are not. Flag Day passes unnoticed. This year it should not. It doesn't take a vivid imagination to feel the thrill that the sight of the American flag has already brought to many European hearts in this year of 1944, and will bring to many more as town after town, French, Italian and others, are liberated.

American men, circling the globe, are fighting round their flag as they have through every war in our history. It quickens their pulses, as it always has. But now, and in the future, it will quicken the pulse of others to whom it is strange but welcome. As it replaces the swastika or the rising sun, it will herald to millions the return of their own flag, and freedom.

The Allied position in the furious and fluid battle of the Cherbourg peninsula, according to dispatches today, has improved steadily, as witness the extension of their front from 60 miles to about 100 during the past three days, despite determined resistance. General Montgomery is exhibiting all the skill and initiative which have made him famous.

Flag Day exercises will be held this evening—rain or shine. No decision will be made with regard to the parade until the starting time. If it is not held, all units are invited and urged to adjourn to the Armory, where the program will be held. Don't let the weather man get you down!

The ol' gray outlook ain't what she used to be—and it will be better and better if we all buy Fifth War Loan Bonds.

Washington in Wartime
By JACK STINETT

SAN FRANCISCO—Non-partisan political observers here—and there are plenty of them, because of the peculiar fact that California is almost a non-partisan state—give the edge to the Democrats at the moment. They hasten to concede, however, that there are three factors which might erase that edge completely before November 7.

(1) If Gov. Earl Warren is "drafted" as No. 2 man on the Republican ticket.

(2) If the fortunes of war should go strongly against the United States either in the invasion of Europe or in the Pacific and those misfortunes could be attributed to administration errors.

(3) If the muddled home front situation becomes more critical and it can be laid squarely at the door of the New Deal.

IN GENERAL terms it may be said that the west coast will be influenced strongly if a popular west coast man is given the No. 2 place on either ticket. The west considers its problems in a different perspective from the rest of the country and an effort to give it a prominent spokesman in Washington will count much with the voters here, regardless of party affiliation.

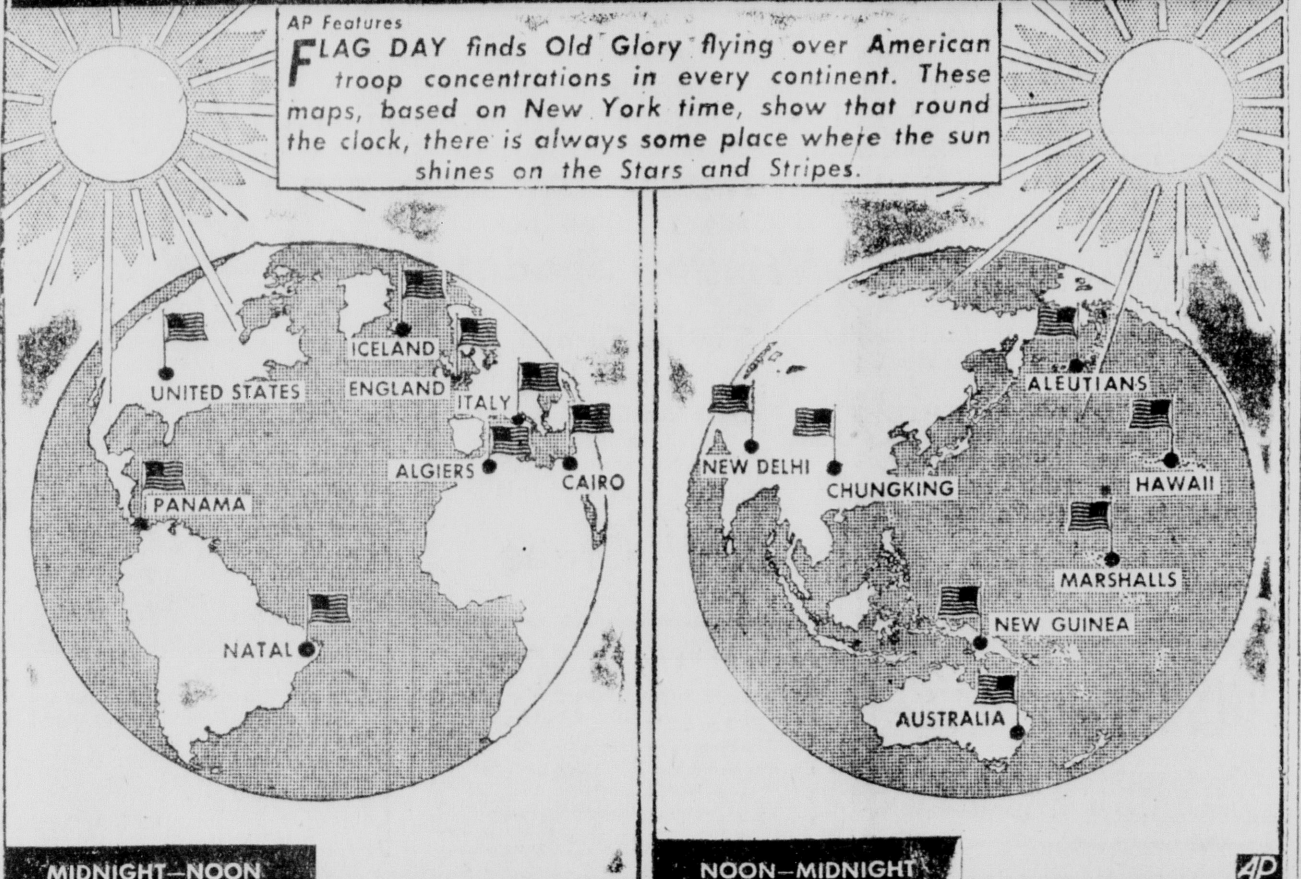

One of those different perspectives is the attitude toward winning the war. No Californians, Washingtonians, or Oregonians I have talked to under-estimate the importance of the war in dress at the reception to be given this evening at the First Baptist church for the graduates of the class of '34 who are members of the Baptist church.

What comes after prayer? All of us have prayed with deep, heartfelt sincerity for our men's success. But after prayer comes action! Buying War Bonds is one thing you can do—and do right now—that will really and actually help! Buy that Invasion Bond today!

Only natives of New England states are actually Yankees.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"
Should We Feed Europe Now?

As debated by
Hon. Clare Boothe Luce
Congresswoman, 4th District, Connecticut; Member House Military Affairs Committee

Mrs. Luce Opens: A recent Gallup Poll on the question "Should the United States send food in neutral Swedish ships to the children of France, Belgium, Holland and other countries occupied now by German armies?" revealed that 65% of the American people favor such aid to the starving children of Europe. I believe the 13% who expressed themselves as "undecided" and the 22% who opposed this aid did so because they felt it might help the Germans.

MR. HARRIS OPENS: Any relaxation of the blockade in favor of Europe's children would result in the death or debilitation of hundreds of thousands of more children. An unanswerable argument in favor of maintaining the blockade with all its rigor was provided by Gen. Ludendorff in his memoirs. He gave an account of the meeting of the Imperial War Council, October 19, 1918, three weeks before the Armistice. At this Council, the Kaiser, Crown Prince, Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Scheidemann and Raeder were present. Ludendorff asked, "Can your excellencies suggest anything to raise the spirit of the masses?" Imperial Chancellor Scheidemann replied, "It is a question of potatoes." Ludendorff said: "Corn and potatoes are power, just as coal and iron." I think that provides a full answer to any suggestion the war should be prolonged to the detriment of Europe's children by any relaxation of the blockade. It is quite sure the Nazi authorities will not take into account all the sufferings of the occupied countries, but their first concern will be to keep their men in fighting trim. It is known that many districts of France are kept on starvation diets, and the prospect of better conditions in Germany is used as a bait to entice the workers away, and there is no reason to believe that they would give up this trump card in attracting workers to the better conditions in the Reich.

MR. HARRIS CHALLENGES: Every man of good will will endorse Mrs. Luce's plea if he listens to sentiment—but the war will be shortened and the total suffering of the children will be much less if the blockade is maintained. Greece was an especial case because Greece has very little agriculture. Their main crops are grapes and raisins. Very little wheat is grown in the country. Greece has no industry to help the Germans and would be left to starve. Germany will not hesitate to starve every child in Europe if she can prolong her existence another few months. Even if the Red Cross could guarantee that relief supplies should be equally reach their destination, that is the children of Europe, how could they guarantee that the Germans would not reserve to themselves an equivalent amount to that now being used for the feeding of the children of Europe?

MRS. LUCE REPLIES: We do not propose to send bread and potatoes. We intend to supply diet deficiencies such as fats and milk. For lack of these non-existent diet elements 35% of Europe's children are now tubercular. The plan was never intended to be more than an experiment to see whether or not it could be done without benefiting the Germans. The plan calls for having on hand a stock never exceeding 100,000 tons. If the Germans seized it all, it would still be abandoned. The plan would be abandoned. The plan would be abandoned. The plan would be abandoned.

MR. HARRIS REPLIES: Fats make explosives. Milk makes plastics for aircraft. Relief releases supplies and farm workers for war. Relief means more Allied dead and more children born to malnutrition. When America entered the last war, the Dutch-Spanish Committee took over Belgian relief funds. However, they reported very considerable evasions undetected by the Hoover Commission. Britain admitted supplies to Poland in 1940 but had to stop because neutral control was installed in Berlin. Nevertheless, Britain has sent enough vitamin D to treat 1,000,000 children. Blockade is a prime weapon of Britain's arsenal. It broke Napoleon and was one of the major factors in Germany's defeat in 1918.

Murder at CANDLEWOOD

by Gene Bunker Lumley

Chapter I
IT WAS raining when Spring stepped off the train at Ten Mile depot. The station was a shapeless smudge in the fog. It was like the ordeal waiting for her in Candlewood, she couldn't put out her hand and touch it concretely, but it was there, threatening her. She shivered with a deepening sense of dread. Under the circumstances, it would have been difficult enough to come to Candlewood in the sunshine.

The train whistle echoed back eerily and was swallowed up in the thundering clamor of rain. And then a shadow moved across the platform and a familiar, steady voice said: "Spring!"

"Dirk!" The heavy fog fell even between them, but his arms hard about her drove away some of the clammy chill around her heart. "Oh, Dirk!"

It was foolish to cry. But, somehow, the fog seemed like an omen, though the roots of her fear went far deeper. She was afraid of losing Dirk.

"This is awful, isn't it?" she whispered, still tight against his hand, "A very fitting reception," Dirk said grimly.

THEY had come in on separate trains. Dirk on a two-week furlough from Great Lakes, and Spring from her farm fifty miles west of Chicago. This should have been their wedding day. They should have been back in the hot Illinois sunshine where the farm fields were fresh and green. Spring should be showing Dirk the cardinal swinging in the top of the tallest pear. But all of that was just a dream, almost a memory. He was Lieutenant Derrick Lane, U.S.N.R., she was still Spring Manning, and they were here on this fog-hidden depot platform in an isolated countryside.

Candlewood—the cold, gray stone house, as ponderous and grim as old Adelaide Manning herself—lay before and between them.

The station door opened and a path of silver light showed through the mist. Henry Bingham, the station agent, stepped out and rattled the door knob. Spring didn't talk at first, they didn't have to. Dirk knew the depot inside, the sense of duty that was behind this sudden trip, and she knew equally well the determination within him. The letters inside her purse were like whispered warnings.

"I'm not going to let you do it!" Dirk said, stopping abruptly. She could see the defiant, vigorous line of his jaw, the peculiar wonderful straightening of his body when he was decided about something.

"I'm not going to let you marry Elvan Morrison," he said fiercely. Spring stirred out of the numb-you go. Right glad you came, Spring.

SPRING watched him disappear like a shadow melting into nothingness. Dirk took her arm and they paced up and down the platform. They didn't talk at first, they didn't have to. Dirk knew the depot inside, the sense of duty that was behind this sudden trip, and she knew equally well the determination within him. The letters inside her purse were like whispered warnings.

"I'm not going to let you do it!" Dirk said, stopping abruptly. She could see the defiant, vigorous line of his jaw, the peculiar wonderful straightening of his body when he was decided about something.

SPRING watched him disappear like a shadow melting into nothingness. Dirk took her arm and they paced up and down the platform. They didn't talk at first, they didn't have to. Dirk knew the depot inside, the sense of duty that was behind this sudden trip, and she knew equally well the determination within him. The letters inside her purse were like whispered warnings.

Old Henry peered at them through the fog.

he was on special duty for the Navy and couldn't disclose his address. I simply couldn't get the news to him. Aunt Drusilla's the only one to whom I wrote. I've told her all about you. And then Elvan wrote, saying he was back in this country. I had a letter half written to him when Gil's telegram came, telling me he'd been blinded. Oh, Dirk, I couldn't send my letter then!

Spring's mind went to her Aunt Drusilla who lived in Candlewood House with her second husband, Gilbert Hayden, whom she had married four years ago. Candlewood was owned by old and equally strenuous Adelaide Manning, Spring's great aunt. The two women had raised Spring, their brother's child, from the age of seven until a year ago when Spring had gone west after her father's death to take over the management of the Illinois farm. Drusilla's letters had been increasingly strange during the past months of separation.

GOOD FINANCIAL SHAPE
Warrenites with a fondness for figures will be interested to know that both Warren Borough and Warren County are occupying a most advantageous financial situation at the present time. The borough has the larger end if its bonds paid off and their sinking fund is of generous proportions while several thousands of various funds have been invested in short term treasury bonds. The county has a neat sum of about $154,000 in its general fund and from all indications its bonded indebtedness will be wiped out by 1945.

Reservation Guarded By U. S. Marshal

Warren hunters and fishermen who in years past have enjoyed the hunting and fishing on the Cattaraugus Indian Reservation just over the state line in New York state will find their fun curtailed this coming season. For years persons friendly to the Indians hunted and fished with impunity without the formality of securing a license for the reservation. This is now all changed and a United States marshal has been assigned by the United States to patrol the reservation and see that laws relating to the care of the Indians upon the lands are not infringed upon. The population of the reservation has also grown during the past few months, as a number of Canadian Senecas have moved down into the United States and taken up their abode. Signs have been posted over the reservation and one of them eight feet inside the Pennsylvania state line near Onondaga reads as follows:

New York State Reservation Hunting, fishing and trapping are prohibited until the party has secured a valid license from the Seneca Nation of Indians. Section 216, Title 25 U. S. Code, provides a penalty of $500 for any person other than an Indian who hunts, fishes, traps or takes any peltries in treaty Indian country and provides for the forfeiture of all traps, guns and ammunition in his possession and all peltries taken.

Violators will be prosecuted. Commission of Indian Affairs Parties of Buffalo hunters who have violated the Indian game laws during the past few hunting seasons are thought to have been responsible for the posting of the lands and for placing a marshal on the reservation.

The marshal will not patrol the Comptroller lands as they are the property of the Indians of the tribe and are not owned by the United States as an Indian reservation.

The new company will manufacture electronic appliances and parts and when in operation will employ a number of men and women. It is expected that the work of remodeling the structure will cover a span of several weeks before it is ready for the installation of machinery and placing a corps of workers at the benches.

Youngsville B.P.W. Club In Jolly Outing

Youngsville, June 14—Island Park was the scene of a merry picnic party Monday evening when members of the Youngsville Business and Professional Club enjoyed an out of doors co-operative dinner. The table was very prettily arranged with a basket of flowers as a centerpiece.

Following a splendid dinner, the president of the club, Mrs. Rose Hubert conducted a business session in which plans were made for the summer activities. It was decided to make the July meeting also an outing meeting. At this meeting, Mrs. Hubert who is to be the club delegate to the state convention will give a report of that event which is being held this month.

At the social time which followed, informal reports were made by the members concerning the service men from this vicinity.

One mother, quoted from a recent letter from her son, now on a Pacific Island. The letter told of an outing which he and two buddies took on a free day. The jungle in this island came to the ocean without a beach. The three American lads, whose time was their own for a day, decided to cut their way into the jungle and explore a bit. All went well until they encountered an enemy and lost their way. They thought that if they could reach the sea, they could follow the coast to their camp. After eighteen difficult hours in the jungle they reached the coast. Soon they discovered that conditions were such along the coast, that they could not reach their camp on foot. They climbed a tree and with a cigarette lighter signalled a passing boat and with its help reached their base.

RED CIRCLE MEETS

The Red Circle met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. H. Knapp. The president led the devotions which were followed by a short program of readings. At the business session, donations were approved for the Missionary work of the organization and for the local Service Club, which this week is sending gifts to service men of stationery. Pleasing refreshments were served out of doors to the large group present.

METHODIST CHILDREN'S DAY

The Methodist Children's Day program was presented by the Sunday School June 11 with the church school superintendent, M. M. Sellin, presiding. At 11 a. m., Rev. Dwight Jack, the pastor, conducted the devotional and two baptismal services. The first for babies which were brought for baptism by their parents. The second baptismal service was for a group of young people.

Recitations opening with a welcome were given by Mary Jane Ustach, Sandra Johnson, Denny Spencer, Debby Engstrom, Ardelle Johnson, Rogel Lake, Jo Carroll Davis, Buddy McAllister, Robert Albright, Jr., Arden Johnson, Ted Smith. The last recitation was a farewell message.

An impressive and beautiful pageant was given by the Junior Girls called "Love Gifts". Exercises given were "The Bible"; "Jewels"; "Children's Flowers"; "Soldier Boys"; "When I Grow Up"; "God's Word in the Garden"; "Rose Buds" (beginners). The beginners also were heard in a song. A piano solo was given by Donny Walter.

The large and appreciative congregation enjoyed thoroughly all numbers given by children and youth of the Sunday School. A generous collection was received which will go to the Methodist Student loan fund which helps deserving young people to gain an education. The church decorations were beautiful.

Outflanking Drive Carries British 23 Miles On Peninsula

Germans Defending Cherbourg Against Americans On the Port, Counter-Attack With Fighting In Streets of Montebourg

CAEN UNDER HEAVY BOMBARDMENT OF WARSHIPS

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14—(AP)—The Germans have flung four armored divisions into fierce fighting to hold their eastern battleline bastion of Caen, the Allied command announced tonight, and heavy fighting is raging at Montebourg and Troarn at opposite ends of the 100-mile front with both towns changing hands in the last 24 hours.

The savage German counteraction on the eastern flank in Normandy followed a British drive 23 miles inland outflanking Caen from the west, and the armored struggle is rising in intensity.

The four Nazi armored divisions were hurled into the area between Caen and Caumont, 20 miles southwest, seized in the hard British push.

The U. S. Fourth Division fought the Germans fiercely for Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of the strategic port of Cherbourg, and the great guns of the British battle-ships Rodney and Ramilies thundered in support of the British fight to hold Troarn, town seven miles from Caen taken in an outflanking drive on that bastion to the east.

Caen itself was under heavy naval bombardment from Allied warships. A fiercer blow was said to have been delivered on the city said it seemed "scarcely possible for life to exist there." Villers-Bocage stands athwart a main highway to Caen, 16 miles to the southwest. Caumont, seven miles west and slightly north of Villers-Bocage, commands a secondary route, also leading to Caen. The British tanks struck with "great effect," the Allied supreme command announced.

BULLETIN

London, June 14—(P)—The Berlin radio said tonight that "heavy and super heavy Allied naval guns shelled Le Havre today." There was no Allied confirmation of the report. Lt. Havre is about 20 miles northeast of the eastern edge of the present beachhead in Normandy.

A fierce German counter-attack was made on British forces in newly-captured Troarn in an attempt to blunt or cut off a Montgomery pincer coming to flank Caen on the east.

It was the old Montgomery tactic of attacking on the flanks to cut off a large force of Germans and take them prisoner or destroy them rather than pushing them back. On the western end of the Allied beachhead, no withdrawal to a 100-mile fighting front, Americans used armored forces to break a deadlock at Carentan, six miles from the sea. The German radio acknowledged a Nazi withdrawal (Turn to Page Seven)

INCREASING ENEMY PRESSURE SOUTH OF ORBETELLO SECTOR SLOWS UP FIFTH ARMY PUSH

Gains Reported on Both East and West of Lake Bolsena and Around Narni

EIGHTH ON THE MARCH

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Rome, June 14—(AP)—Fifth Army elements have swung around the heavily-defended strong point of Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, and captured the important junction of Highways Nos. 1 and 74, some four and a half miles beyond the town, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Reconnaissance elements pushed still farther north.

"In the coastal sector our troops have encountered increased resistance south of Orbetello, developed their strength in the mountains and late June 12 cut the road junction of Highway Nos. 1 and 74. Reconnaissance elements are moving farther north," said a headquarters communiqué.

(This movement presumably blocked the retreat of the Germans defending Orbetello.)

To the east, the Eighth Army advanced 60 miles north of Rome.

Gains were also made both east and west of Lake Bolsena and Allied troops were closing in on Marigliano, seven and a half miles below Terni and 43 miles due north of Rome.

The town of Latern, four miles northeast of Valentano, was gathered in by Fifth Army units and the advance moved on toward Gradoli, less than two miles farther northeast.

Other Fifth Army forces were closing in on Bolsena, on the eastern shore of the lake.

Meanwhile the Eighth Army continued to march up the Tiber (Turn to Page Seven)

Showdown On French Issue Is Postponed

By ALEX SINGLETON

London, June 14—(P)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today secured a postponement of full-scale debate in commons on the controversial issue of British-American relations with the French committee of National Liberation, parrying a demand for a showdown with the assertion "it would do more harm than good now."

In his first appearance before the house since his daring trip to the beachhead in Normandy Monday, Churchill made only scant reference to the progress of the war, declaring that any anxiety over the De Gaulle committee question "should properly be directed to our gallant soldiers and to the great operations which are in progress, which give hope as well as anxiety."

The prime minister contended full discussion of the subject should be held off until negotiations among the French committee, the United States and Britain could be completed.

Commons turned to other subjects after Churchill said he would not be seeking to delay the debate "if I had no hopes of a better solution than I can announce at the present time."

Boys On Beachhead Afraid Home Folks Too Optimistic

By DON WHITEHEAD

With American Troops in France, June 14—(P)—The nightmare days of the beachhead landing are past, but everywhere I find the troops afraid that the people at home are too optimistic.

We hear that the reaction to the beachhead fighting in both England and the United States is that the war is all over except for a few messy details and that the public's feelings have bounced like a rubber ball.

They should be feeling good that the Allies grabbed a hold on the continent without the blood bath that many predicted. Actually, there was only one sector of the American front where there was any bitter fighting getting across the beaches—and that was where the fighting First Division and elements of the 29th smashed the head on to a reinforced German division waiting on the beach.

While a most critical period is behind us, the situation cannot be regarded as past the dangerous stage until the Allies are able to build up huge reservoirs and burst out from their bridgehead,

DeGaulle Act Impedes Drive Into Normandy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 13—(P)—In the final hours before the start of the invasion of France, General Charles De Gaulle is reported here to have suddenly cancelled the orders of several hundred French officers scheduled to land with the first wave of Allied troops.

Reports from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters to the highest military officials here disclosed today that as a result, cooperation between the French population and Allied armies has been impaired in the occupied Normandy areas.

This is true, according to officials who are investigating the situation now, even though De Gaulle finally relented to the extent of allowing twenty French officers to go along with the forces assigned to liberate their homeland.

De Gaulle's action with respect to the officers is said to be probably the most important new factor entering into the background of a proposed meeting between President Roosevelt and the leader of the French National Committee here either late this month or early in July.

ORDER OF POLICE WILL ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

Johnstown, June 14—(P)—Delegates to the eighth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Fraternal Order of Police balloted today on officers for the 1944-45 term.

Martin O'Toole of Pittsburgh, the incumbent, and Fred McCallum of Philadelphia were the candidates for president. In the only other contest, Edward Gilson of Meadville and Samuel Painter of Harrisburg vied for the post of recording secretary.

Motion Holds Up Conspiracy Trial

Washington, June 14—(P)—Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of U. S. District Court agreed today to hear oral arguments Monday on a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for the 29 defendants in the mass sedition conspiracy case.

Defense attorneys will base their arguments on the supreme court's decision last Monday overruling the espionage conviction of Elmer Hertzell of Chicago.

Rogge, chief prosecutor, said he would outline "some of the highlights" of the government's case and show "specific intent" on the part of the defendants to conspire to impair the morale of the armed forces.

Jackson commented that the indictment in the sedition case "wouldn't have been returned" if the Hartzell decision had been made at the time.

Petition of Forge Employees Dismissed

Washington, June 14—(P)—The National Labor Relations Board today dismissed a petition for investigation and certification of representation of employees of National Forge and Ordnance Company, Irvine, Warren County, Pa., filed by United Steelworkers of America (CIO).

The dismissal followed an election at which no collective bargaining representative was selected by a majority of the employees, NLRB said.

LONG RUSSIAN FRONT ABLAZE WITH ACTION

Red Army Troops Advance Within Thirty Miles of Important Port of Viipuri

NEAR MANNERHEIM LINE

London, June 14—(P)—Red army troops have advanced to within 30 miles of the important port of Viipuri, crushing Finnish troops resisting from strongly fortified positions, Moscow announced today and enemy reports said Russia's whole northern front from the Arctic to the White Sea and Gulf of Finland was ablaze with action.

Finnish and German radio broadcasts declared the Russians were attacking in the Lissa sector between the Arctic ports of Murmansk and Petsamo, and Berlin asserted Soviet forces also were striking southwest of Narva in Estonia.

The Moscow communiqué was restricted to the Karelian Isthmus fighting, saying Soviet troops captured several Finnish strongpoints during yesterday's battling.

The Russians are within 20 miles of the Mannerheim line, main defense barrier across the Karelian isthmus, Moscow bulletins indicated, after clearing the second belt of approaches.

Finnish advances relayed through Stockholm said that stout resistance was confronting the Russians in the Kivnappa sector, with the Vammelsu river front still intact.

One dispatch from Helsinki via Stockholm said some sections of the Finnish press advocated a defend-or-die spirit, but other advances said the Finns, resentful of lack of German aid, were ready to evacuate not only Viipuri but virtually the entire isthmus.

Bricker Forces Claim Over 250 On First Ballot

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer

A prediction came today from the forces of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio that he "will receive between 250 and 300 votes on the first ballot" at the Republican presidential nominating convention.

This report, supplied by directors of the field staff of the Bricker-for-President committee, accorded their man a total of 174 votes now—50 pledged and 124 definitely claimed—and figured the total for Governor Thomas E. Dewey at 213 "probable" Dewey supporters, on the other hand say he has a total of 391.

Five hundred and twenty-nine votes are needed to nominate and the Bricker people viewed the field of uninstructed delegates as fruitful and said the Ohioan is "growing stronger each day."

The "first ballot analysis" from the Bricker camp came as the election of a Republican to congress from the 19th Illinois district shuffled house standings to the point that for the first time in 13 years the Democrats lack an actual majority of the house membership.

Sensational Charges Made In Report On Pearl Harbor

Washington, June 14—(P)—A congressional committee's inquiry into delayed defense preparations at Pearl Harbor produced a report today highlighted by descriptions of yachting parties given for the army colonel in charge of construction in Hawaii by a German-born contractor who held war department contracts for the work.

The report, by the house military committee, called on the army for "further explanation" of what it termed "mismanagement" on the part of Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., and why the contracts had been awarded to Hans Wilhelm Rohlf, then a German alien, although he had been a resident of the United States since 1913. He was naturalized, the committee said, only three months before the sneak Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Asserting there were unexplained delays in construction, particularly in building an aircraft warning system, the report said that had the system been completed on schedule, the attack on the Pacific bastion might have been robbed of much of its surprise.

The committee, saying it could (Turn to Page Seven)

Harder Blows Coming Says Eisenhower

Washington, June 14—(P)—Mighty Allied offensives are in the making to smash into Nazi Europe on all fronts.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave the world—including Hitler's part of it—a glimpse of coming invasions in a special report to President Roosevelt yesterday which called the present fighting:

"Only part of the far larger pattern of a combined assault against the fortress of Germany by the great Russian armies from the east and our forces from the Mediterranean."

Mr. Roosevelt read the report from the Allied commander to a quiet news conference. In his reading he emphasized the general's words that last week's smash across the English channel was "a mere beginning."

The Allied commander said the cross-channel operation was "attended by hazards and difficulties greater, I believe, than have ever before faced an invading army."

But we have won a foothold upon northwestern France, he declared. "Through the opening thus made, and through others yet to come, the flood of our fighting strength must be poured."

The general paid tribute to American, British and Canadian troops who were untried in battle before they went into the invasion. He called their performance "a particularly satisfying feature of the fighting."

Lad Confesses To Shooting His Girl

Springfield, Mass., June 14—(P)—Police Chief Raymond P. Gallagher said today that a 15-year old boy had confessed to the fatal shooting of schoolmate Carolyn Bennett, 14, because she had been "going out with other boys."

Gallagher identified the youth as William Roach, whose uncle, S. Everett Cook, is assistant principal at Forest Park Junior High school where both youngsters studied.

He said the boy was arrested by police in downtown Springfield a few hours after Carolyn's body was found in Forest Park not far from the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bennett. Bennett formerly was a member of the Springfield city council.

The police chief quoted the boy girl into Forest Park on his bicycle around 8:30 last night.

Fortresses and Liberators Split Up and Attack Oil Refinery at Emmerich, Germany

'ROUND CLOCK MISSION

By GLADWIN HILL

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14—(AP)—Fifteen hundred U. S. heavy bombers—the greatest single striking force in air history—attacked France and Germany today in concert with up to 750 American heavies which struck Hungary and Yugoslavia from Italy.

The oil lifelines for Hitler's thirsty war machine were hit hard, part of the big task force from Britain hitting the oil refinery at Emmerich, Germany, while the Mediterranean force attacked half a dozen oil refineries in Hungary and Yugoslavia, including the Shell Koolaz, five miles south of Budapest, the largest in Hungary.

A Berlin broadcast said that U. S. bombers today attacked Budapest "and environs as well as several provincial places and industrial plants" in Hungary.

Other Britain-based Fortresses and Liberators aimed their bombs at six enemy air bases beyond the beachhead in the unrelenting campaign to wipe out nests of German air force opposition. Others hit bridges in France and Belgium.

Supreme headquarters announced that in the first seven days of invasion 56,000 individual flights were made by the Allied air forces with the loss of 554 planes—less than one percent of the attacking force.

In that time 42,000 tons of bombs were dropped. The Eighth air force led with about 16,000 sorties and the Ninth had 15,500.

The American force, aggregating upwards of 1,500 bombers and fighters, attacked among other targets the Le Bourget and Creil air fields at Paris, Etampes-Mondeir and Chateaudun in France; Brussels-Melsbroeck and Eindhoven in Belgium.

Meanwhile, another American heavy bomber force, the German radio said, surged up from Italy for an attack on Hitler's Europe, which underwent heavy attacks from the south in the Munich area both yesterday and today.

Resistance Of Underground Is Increasing

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

Madrid, June 14—(P)—Reports out of underground France asserted today that a methodic, persistent rising by the greater part of the French nation is undermining the Germans' best laid plans to hold the Allied invasion.

These advances, filtering through many points on the Franco-Spanish frontier and through diplomatic channels, said that guerrillas and the organized underground were actively leading the French in making trouble and yet more trouble for the Germans.

That the Germans recognized the danger was demonstrated by an order placing 11 departments in central France and parts of four (Turn to Page Seven)

Police Round Up Youthful Bike Thieves

Members of the Warren police department, and the Sheriff's office during the past few days have rounded up a group of six boys from 14 to 16 who for some months have been engaged in stealing bicycles. The boys were skillful operators and changed wheels on the various bikes, filed off serial numbers, painted some, changed tires on others and sold several of the wheels to unsuspected persons. In all 10 bicycles have been recovered together with an assortment of tires, spare parts for bicycles and other accoutrements. One wheel stolen a year ago was brought to light.

The arrest of the gang, all of whom with one exception reside outside the borough limits came about through the keen eyes of Joseph DeAngelo, 114 North Carver street. His bicycle was stolen some time ago and he saw another machine which looked familiar to him in certain parts. Notifying the police, Lieut. M. Egan and Sheriff Linder went to the boys home over the borough line.

Investigation and questioning brought first one boy into the hands of the law and then another until the whole gang had been rounded up.

All of the boys have confessed their part in the affair to the officers and they will be taken into juvenile court soon.

Priest To Sing
1st Mass Here
Next Sunday

Plans have been completed by two former members of the Catholic Diocese of Erie for the singing of their first solemn masses on Sunday, June 18, one such celebration to be in St. Joseph's church, this city.

The celebrant will be Father Bartholomew F. Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sweeney, of Russell, who, with Father Raphael L. McDonald, of Oil City, was ordained to the priesthood of the Order of Friars Minor on Sunday morning, June 11, in the Franciscan Monastery church of Mt. Saint Sepulchre in Washington, D. C.

Father Alfred Bauer, pastor of St. Joseph's will act as assistant priest for Father Sweeney, OFM, of East Rutherford, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walters, Morrison street, will preach the sermon.

The new priest will be further assisted by Father Martin Hausner, OFM, of St. Bonaventure's College, and Father Arthur Leon, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's. Immediately following mass, Father Sweeney will bestow individual blessing upon the congregation.

A reception will be held in the school hall from three until six o'clock in the afternoon and the public is cordially invited to both this informal social time and the celebration of the mass.

Both Father Sweeney and Father McDonald attended St. Bonaventure's previous to joining the Order of Friars Minor. As fellow novices they made their novitiate in St. Bonaventure's monastery at Paterson, N. J., and together they pursued scholastic studies in Holy Name province's school of philosophy in Croghan and Butler, N. J. In 1941 they entered Holy Name College in Washington, D. C.

In the fall of that year, the Most Rev. John M. McNamara, V.G., auxiliary bishop of Washington and Baltimore conferred clerical tonsure and minor orders upon them in the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Elevation to the subdeaconate, by the Most Rev. Michael P. Keyes, S.M., titular bishop of Areopolis, took place in May, 1943. In the following September he ordained them deacons in the crypt of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception on the campus of the Catholic University of America in Washington.

Instructions
On Writing To War Prisoners

A number of questions have been asked by friends of prisoners-of-war and civilian internees, as to whether or not they may write to prisoners-of-war. The regulations state that anyone may write to a prisoner-of-war where the address is known definitely. There is no limitation of letters which a prisoner or civilian internee may receive, however there is a definite limitation on the number of letters which a prisoner-of-war may write each month. Letters to prisoners and civilian internees of the Japanese must be confined to twenty-four words. No limitation is placed on the length of a letter to a prisoner of the Germans, however it is requested the letters be kept brief. They must not contain any information of military, political, or religious nature. They must be hand printed or typed for the benefit of censors of the various countries where the mail is handled.

Packages may be sent by nearest of kin—one every sixty days upon receipt of formal package slips from the Provost Marshal General's office. One 5 lb. package of books may be sent direct from the book seller and books are restricted as to their contents.

An emergency cable may be sent through the American Red Cross to a prisoner-of-war, to any territory except Java.

It is hoped that the above general information will be of assistance to the people in the community who are interested.

Joining Team
At Allentown

"Jerry" Vesling, well known young infielder with the Struthers Wells team and one of the most promising players to emerge from the sandlots of Warren in years, left last evening for Allentown to join the team representing that town in the Interstate League.

Vesling has been playing at short and third for the Struthers, appearing in his final game for the locals at Titusville last Sunday. He is a former Warren High school football player, and was one of the main supports of the Stoneham-Clarendon team in the City League a few years ago. He is 17 years old.

His many friends have confidence that he will make the grade with Allentown. Other teams in the league are York, Lancaster, Wilmington, Hagertown and Trenton.

Book Game Is
Library Plan
For Students

"You're in the army now" will soon be the slogan for Warren school children interested in the "Book Army Game" being sponsored by the Warren Public Library for the summer vacation season—or it may be they will elect to register for some other branch of service being represented by the game.

This new form of entertainment, which got under way Monday and continues through August 12, is based on the following rules and regulations:

1. Boys may join the Army, the Army Air Corps, the Navy or the Marines.
2. Girls may join the Waves, the Spars or the Marines.
3. Anyone joining at the school may not join at the library.
4. 48 points are required to attain the highest rank in each division.
5. To become a Lieutenant or a warrant officer, a recruit must read one book from the reading list for 3 of the 8 points necessary for that rank.
6. If a boy or girl attains a top rank before the contest closes, he or she may enlist in another branch of the service.
7. Oral reports must be given to Miss Beryl Granger or Miss Georgia Spimney for each book read, when it is returned.

A list is posted at the public library and in each school, giving the ranks and points necessary to attain each rank.

A prize will be awarded to top ranking officers and to the person who reads the largest number of books during the contest period. Prizes will be awarded in the fourth and fifth grade groups and in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade groups.

FARM NEWS

Harrisburg, June 14—(AP)—Pennsylvania farmers planted nearly 90,000 more acres of corn this year than in 1943. W. Clayton Jester, chief of field operations for the agricultural adjustment agency in Pennsylvania, said today.

"The anticipated corn acreage for 1944 is about 25,000 acres in excess of the goal set up for the state by the Pennsylvania goals conference last fall," asserted Jester.

He attributed the increase to a desire on the part of farmers to protect themselves against a possible feed shortage during the coming winter.

"With supplies in the ever-normal granary scraping bottom, farmers throughout the state were aroused to a point where they decided to utilize every acre for grain feed this year," Jester added.

Corn planting will help to solve the feed situation, but will also present a danger to the state in the matter of soil erosion. John A. Smith, state AAA secretary pointed out in connection with the crop increase.

"Unless sound conservation practices are following, we can destroy in one year a great deal of the progress we have made in soil conservation during the past ten years," he said.

To help control the disastrous effects of erosion in corn and other cultivated crops the AAA authorized a winter cover crop bonus as part of the state agricultural conservation program. Farmers who sow domestic rye grass in the last working of corn or any cultivated row crop will receive $2 per acre in conservation payment to meet the cost of seed.

"These payments," explained Smith, "are expected to encourage farmers to protect the soil from the effects of erosion during the fall and winter months."

"Rye grass has been found to be one of the best cover crops, since its roots and blades form a protecting blanket against fall and winter rains, the blanket holding the soil on the hillsides and halting erosion."

Maple sugar production in Pennsylvania approached a new record this spring with an increase of more than 300,000 pounds over 1943, the federal state crop reporting service, disclosed.

"Northern tier counties experienced the heaviest run of sap since 1936," said E. L. Astiger, statistician in the division of crop reporting.

"The first run of sap was better than average, both as to quality and quantity," added Astiger, "and only a shortage of labor prevented the grove owners from setting a new mark in sugar production."

In terms of sugar Pennsylvania produced over one million pounds, despite a reduction of 11,000 trees tapped in 1944 as compared with last year.

The trees tapped this year yielded 133 gallons of syrup, or 38,000 gallons more than in 1943, another indication of the extensive sap flow this spring.

To the People of this Community

Display of the flag and bond buying go hand in hand. You render only lip service when you hoist the national banner today and then do nothing to keep it a symbol of freedom.

In the invasion of the men from this community know the full price of the American flag in blood and tears. To them it means their homes, their families and their very bodies. For the flag, they die.

What better day than Flag Day for you at home, safe and sound, far away from the screaming battlefields, to make a genuine sacrifice in buying extra War Bonds, more than you ever bought before? Don't your hat to the flag and to the men who fight for it by going without even the suggestion of a luxury until the war is won, until our invading forces have torn into shreds the twin symbols of hatred and treachery, the Rising Sun and the Swastika.

Buy extra Bonds today, not for the profit that is in them, but for the practical patriotism they represent. That's the real way to observe Flag Day.

DON'T TRAVEL

This is the third summer that the Office of Defense Transportation has asked the public not to travel during their vacations. And this year the request is more than ever serious and necessary. Troop movements now total 1,500,000 a month. And soon, unfortunately, there will be a two-way traffic when casualties start coming back to hospitals and homes from overseas. Furlough and war business travel remain heavy.

Perhaps more immediately impressive than figures are the promises of discomfort. Half of the country's Pullmans and a third of its coaches are in full wartime service. The rest are carrying a peak load. So if you plan to go vacationing by train you can confidently expect some or all of the following experiences:

You will have to stand all the way to your destination; there will be no air-conditioned cars; you will wait long for dining car meals—if you get 'em; you will have to carry your own baggage; your train will likely be late.

Here is the picture of what has happened to American transportation so far in this war:

In 1918 there were 61,000 passenger cars—54,000 day coaches and 7,000 Pullmans—and they traveled 43 billion passenger miles.

In 1943 there were only 45,000 passenger cars. They traveled 87 billion passenger miles.

This was twice the traveling of 1918 when there were 16,000 more passenger cars.

The reason for the decrease in cars: Starting in the 1920's, the automobile and bus drained off travelers from the railroads. With fewer passengers, the roads did not replace worn out equipment.

The number of passengers carried—not to be confused with passenger miles—by the railroads in 1943 was 885 million.

This will show the increasing load on inter-city buses:

In 1941 they traveled 13 billion miles, carrying 395 million persons; in 1942 it was 22 billion miles and 680 million passengers; in 1943 it was 29 billion miles and 975 million passengers.

Think it over and you may agree with the ODT that for a wartime vacation there's no place like home.

'THRO' THE PERILOUS FIGHT

Exercises appropriate to the importance of the occasion have been arranged by the Warren Lodge of Elks in observance of Flag Day, with a parade scheduled at seven o'clock this evening followed by the impressive ritualistic services on the lawn of the club house. The public is cordially invited to attend and this year, more than ever before, every citizen should feel it a patriotic duty to be present.

The most thrilling of many thrilling D-Day sights, said an Army photo reconnaissance pilot, was an American flag flying over a French town soon after the first landings.

It is good to be thrilled by the sight of the flag. Too often, in too many years, we are not. Flag Day passes unnoticed. This year it should not. It doesn't take a vivid imagination to feel the thrill that the sight of the American flag has already brought to many European hearts in this year of 1944, and will bring to many more as town after town, French, Italian and others, are liberated.

American men, circling the globe, are fighting round their flag as they have through every war in our history. It quickens their pulses, as it always has. But now, and in the future, it will quicken the pulse of others to whom it is strange but welcome. As it replaces the swastika or the rising sun, it will herald to millions the return of their own flag, and freedom.

The Allied position in the furious and fluid battle of the Cherbourg peninsula, according to dispatches today, has improved steadily, as witness the extension of their front from 60 miles to about 100 during the past three days, despite determined resistance. General Montgomery is exhibiting all the skill and initiative which have made him famous.

Flag Day exercises will be held this evening—rain or shine. No decision will be made with regard to the parade until the starting time. If it is not held, all units are invited and urged to adjourn to the Armory, where the program will be held. Don't let the weather man get you down!

The ol' gray outlook ain't what she used to be—and it will be better and better if we all buy Fifth War Loan Bonds.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

SAN FRANCISCO—Non-partisan political observers here—and there are plenty of them, because of the peculiar fact that California is almost a non-partisan state—give the edge to the Democrats at the moment. They hasten to concede, however, that there are three factors which might erase that edge completely before November 7:

(1) If Gov. Earl Warren is "drafted" as No. 2 man on the Republican ticket.

(2) If the fortunes of war should go strongly against the United States either in the invasion of Europe or in the Pacific and those misfortunes could be attributed to administration errors.

(3) If the muddled home front situation becomes more critical and it can be laid squarely at the door of the New Deal.

IN GENERAL terms it may be said that the west coast will be influenced strongly if a popular west coast man is given the No. 2 place on either ticket. The west considers its problems in a different perspective from the rest of the country and an effort to give it a prominent spokesman in Washington will count much with the voters here, regardless of party affiliation.

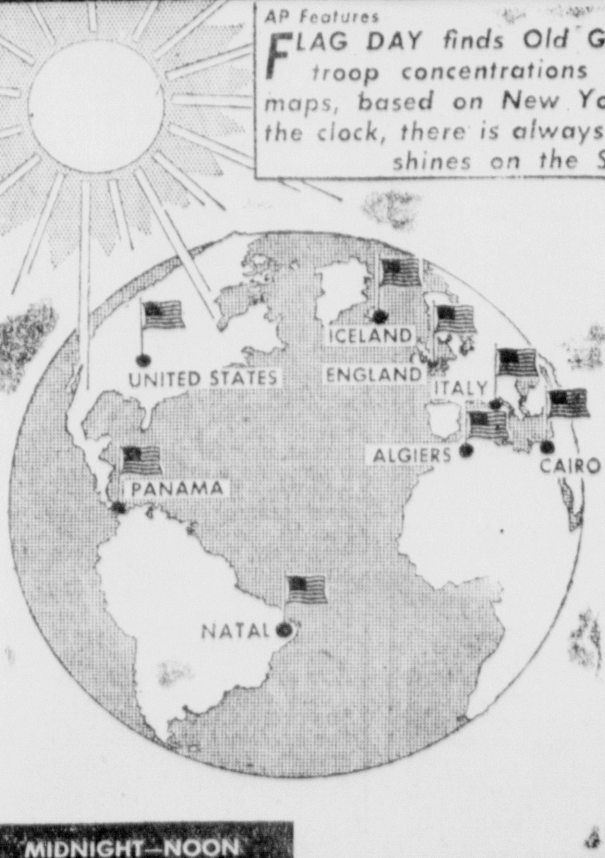

One of these different perspectives is the attitude toward winning the war. No Californians, Washingtonians, or Oregonians I have talked to under-estimate the importance of the war in dress at the reception to be given this evening at the First Baptist church for the graduates of the class of '34 who are members of the Baptist church.

Can we take it? The men running this war have told us again and again that Victory is likely to come slowly, at bitter cost, and attended by heartbreaks all the way. We must take bad news with good—we must never let up—We must keep doing our job and buying more and more bonds 'til the day when the last enemy lays down his gun. Let's do just that! Buy that Invasion Bond Today!

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Should We Feed Europe Now?

Moderated by FRED G. CLARK, Chairman, American Economic Foundation

Hon. Clare Boothe Luce, Congresswoman, 4th District, Connecticut; Member House Military Affairs Committee

Murray G. Harris, Famous British Military Authority and Author of "The Logic of War"

MRS. LUCE OPENS: A recent Gallup Poll on the question "Should the United States send food in neutral Swedish ships to the children of France, Belgium, Holland and other countries occupied now by German troops?" revealed that 65% of the American people favor such aid to the starving children of Europe. I believe the 13% who expressed themselves as "undecided" and the 22% who opposed this aid did so because they felt it might help the Germans. I doubt if there is even a handful of Americans who would countenance the starvation of any child anywhere if it could conceivably be avoided, without profit to the enemy. The hearings on this problem before the Senate revealed that sending supplementary supplies of food to the children of our Allies to raise them from extreme undernourishment to a normal diet would not aid the Germans. Nazi authorities would still have to provide the quantities of food now granted to children in occupied countries under rationing restrictions. The same relief plan said to have saved the lives of 3,000,000 Greeks without benefitting a single Nazi child would not aid the Germans. The same relief plan said to have saved the lives of 3,000,000 Greeks without benefitting a single Nazi child would not aid the Germans. The same relief plan said to have saved the lives of 3,000,000 Greeks without benefitting a single Nazi child would not aid the Germans.

MR. HARRIS CHALLENGES: Every man of good will will endorse Mrs. Luce's plea. But he listens to sentiment—but the war will be shortened and the total suffering of the children will be much less if the blockade is maintained. Greece has an especial case because Greece has very little agriculture. Their main crops are grapes and raisins. Very little wheat is grown in the country. Greece has no industry to help the Germans and would be left to starve. Germany will not hesitate to starve every child in Europe if she can prolong her existence another few months. Even if the Red Cross could guarantee that relief supplies should actually reach their destination, that is, the children of Europe, how could they guarantee that the Germans would not reserve to themselves an equivalent amount to that now being used for the feeding of the children of Europe?

MRS. LUCE REPLIES: We do not propose to send bread and potatoes. We intend to supply diet deficiencies such as fats and milk. For lack of these non-existent diet elements 35% to 65% of Europe's children are now tubercular. The plan was never intended to be more than an experiment to see whether or not it could be done without benefitting the Germans. The plan calls for having on hand a stock never exceeding 100,000 tons. If the Germans seized it all, it would take 48 hours. The plan would then be abandoned but our European Allies could never say we failed to try.

"Love's Dream" To Introduce Many Talented Young Dancers

At the recital, June 28th, of the Williams School of Dancing at the Woman's Club, the program will be one of the most beautiful that Mrs. Williams has ever conceived in her many delightful presentations of her pupils to the public. It will be divided into three parts, each a complete story in itself, and the libretto on the program will pleasantly introduce each of the various portions.

"Love's Dream After the Ball" will open the program and it will introduce a group of young people in some pleasing dances. The dream of a young woman after a ball promises to be one of the most delightful features of the whole evening.

In Scene One "The Ball", the following will take part: Virginia Hamblin, Frank Williams, Jean Brindis, Julio Fino, Shirley Laufferberger, Bruce Edwards, Katherine Williams and Joe Acks—Strauss.

Tickets for the recital are in the hands of the pupils and a large advance sale indicates the splendid interest being shown in the affair. All reservations must be made at the studio of the school.

Murder at CANDLEWOOD

by Gene Bunker Lumber

Chapter 1

IT WAS raining when Spring stepped off the train at Ten Mile depot. The station was a shapeless smudge in the fog. It was like the ordeal waiting for her in Candlewood, she couldn't put out her hand and touch it concretely, but it was there, threatening her. She shivered with a deepening sense of dread. Under the circumstances, it would have been difficult enough to come to Candlewood in the sunshine.

The train whistle echoed back eerily and was swallowed up in the thundering clamor of rain. And then a shadow moved across the platform and a familiar, steadying voice said:

"Spring!"

"Dirk! The heavy fog fell even between them, but his arms hard about her drove away some of the clammy chill around her heart. "Oh, Dirk!"

It was foolish to cry. But, somehow, the fog seemed like an omen, though the roots of her fear went far deeper. She was afraid of losing Dirk.

"This is awful, isn't it?" she whispered, still tight against his Navy greatcoat.

"A very fitting reception," Dirk said grimly.

Warren Has Opportunity To Have Card Training Camp Here During the Summer

Warren has an opportunity to have a St. Louis Cardinal tryout camp this summer if satisfactory arrangements can be made. A letter has been received by "Red" Swanson from C. S. Keleher, Cardinal Scout, offering to hold a school here if a suitable field can be secured.

The communication opens one or two possibilities. One would be to have the board of school directors make Russell Field available for the school, and another to go to the State Hospital diamond.

The letter states that the YMCA in Clearfield is backing a camp there as one of its summer activities.

Such a school for prospective professional ball players would cost the community nothing, as the letter states "all expected is the good will of the people of Warren."

The letter follows: "St. Louis Baseball Club, 'Lebanon, Pa., June 10. Dear Mr. Swanson:

"If you think a tryout camp at Warren would stimulate interest in that area I sure would be more than pleased to include Warren in our schedule.

"First of all could be get the use of the park? We assume all liability in case of accident.

"In Clearfield the YMCA will boost the camp and list it as one of the activities in their summer program. You may have a recreational department that would like to get back of this. It will cost them nothing except back it with their good will.

"Let me hear from you as soon as possible so I can arrange our itinerary accordingly.

"Yours truly, "C. S. Keleher, "Scout for St. Louis Cardinals."

The Pontiacs, colored team from Erie, will attempt breaking the win streak of the National Forge at Wilder Field Sunday afternoon.

Ernie Dance, most published colored pitcher, will take the mound and try to do what most hurlers have failed to do thus far this season—get a win over the Forgers.

The Pontiacs have reorganized after a year's absence from the field and from every indication will be up to standard of past years.

The Forge is attempting to get Elmo Wolfe to don a uniform for this game, but as yet he has not made a decision. It is hoped he will be persuaded before the end of the week.

An effort is being made to make this a benefit game, the money to be turned over to players who formerly were with the Forge but who are now in uniform. It will be known definitely before tomorrow how this materializes.

The Forge will meet Struthers-Wells at the State Hospital tomorrow evening in a "grudge" game and an exciting contest is anticipated. Struthers has been strengthening lately and playing excellent ball and the Forgers expect no easy time. Many are predicting that the Forgers may have a game chalked on the losing side before they have a chance to meet the Erie Pontiacs Sunday.

Cincinnati Reds Slump In the National League As Red Sox Forge Ahead In the American

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox are blossoming out as pennant contenders in the American League while the Cincinnati Reds have hit the skids in the National League.

The second place Sox chalked up their sixth straight win yesterday by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 2, behind the veteran Joe Bowman. Meantime, Cincinnati dropped its fourth in a row as Ray Starr, waived from the Reds two weeks ago, pitched Pittsburgh to a 3 to 2 triumph in a five-inning fray halted by rain.

Dutch Leonard, veteran knuckleball flinger for the Washington Senators, extended the New York Yankees' losing streak to seven straight. Dutch rubbed it in by shutting out the New Yorkers, 3 to 0, under the arcs.

Sparked by Danny Litwhiler, who bashed out three doubles and a single, the first place St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 3. Southpaw Max Lanier was credited with his seventh win of the campaign although George Munger relieved him in the eighth.

Trailing until the ninth the league leading St. Louis Browns banged over three runs to beat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3, for Jack Kramer's eighth triumph. A single by Mark Christman with the bases full was the deciding blow.

The Phillies snapped a five-game losing streak by beating the Boston Braves, 8 to 7, in the second game of a doubleheader. Jim "no-hit" Tobin twirled the Braves to a 2 to 1 triumph in the opener.

Three home runs, one of them by Dixie Walker with two on in the fifth, gave Brooklyn a 9 to 4 decision over the Giants as Ed Head registered his second win of the season.

The Detroit-Cleveland game was rained out.

Nothing like Wheaties to spread the smiles. You're glad all over after a cheery bowl of milk, fruit, and Wheaties, "Breakfast of

To every Warren man or woman with a boy in uniform make no mistake. Perhaps the biggest thing you can do for your boy now, in his most dangerous hour, is to buy extra War Bonds yourself and to persuade others to buy them. The 5th War Loan will be watched eagerly by our men, and its success will be real tangible evidence that the home front is solidly behind them. We can't let them down—buy that Invasion Bond today!

Vitamin Pills Give Veteran Mancuso New Lease On Life

By JOE REICHLER

New York, June 13—(P)—Those vitamin B-1 tablets, which Mel Ott attributes his remarkable home run surge, have given ancient Gus Mancuso a new lease on life.

The oldest catcher in the major leagues in point of service, with the exception of Rollie Hemsley of the New York Yankees, Mancuso apparently has won the New York Giant's first string receiving job from Ernie Lombardi.

Including Tuesday's game, the swarthy Texan has caught 15 of the last 19 games and made 16 hits in 43 times at bat for an average of .372. Besides, he has coaxed nine free passes.

"Yes, I've been taking the vitamin pills Otis has and they're wonderful. I take a shot every night before I go to bed. Not only do I sleep well, but I get up refreshed," Gus says.

Mancuso also credits the vitamins for his increase in speed. Late, he has been going from first to third on an outfield hit as has even outlegged a couple of field hits.

The 38-year old veteran of 10 major league clubs, who has hit over .231 in the last five years, revealed that he has changed his batting stance.

Outflanking Drive Carries British 23 Miles On Peninsula

west and north of Carentan "to spare German lives."

This several-mile withdrawal would put Americans between half and two-thirds of the way across the Cherbourg peninsula at its narrowest point.

The Allies, aided today by fair weather, already have seized a foothold in France of 600 to 700 square miles, and captured more than 10,000 prisoners. Allied officers estimate 250,000 Germans are engaged in Normandy, Berlin, apparently trying to picture Allied successes as due to overwhelming numbers, has placed the figure of Allied soldiers as high as 500,000.

The Allied advance to Caumont and Illers-Bocage cut two roads leading northeastward to Caen, the strongest point still in German possession. This drive swerved southeastward from the Cerisy Forest area.

Expanding Allied pressure has in three days enlarged the length of the battlefield from 60 miles to nearly 100, forcing the Nazi defenders to spread their forces over a greater area.

American troops who plunged through the Cerisy Forest pushed southwest several miles toward the important German communications hub of St. Lo. German broadcasts acknowledged two advances in that area as Allied forces attempted to throw a pincer around the town.

The German radio said St. Lo was a mass of flaming rubble from Allied air bombardment.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Allied ground commander, threw British tanks into the attack on the German flank south of Tilly-sur-Seuilles and today's communique, No. 17, said the blow had a "great effect," although the exact extent of the drive was not revealed.

Both Germans and the Allies have fought into and been thrown out of Montebourg and Troarn in the last 24 hours, headquarters said.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery launched a squeeze on Caen with his thrusts reaching 23 miles inland into the area southwest of the big anchor city.

Striking as he often did against Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the African desert, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Allied ground commander, sent tanks rumbling south of Bayeux along the central sector of the front. They smashed through Caumont and Villers-Bocage, then turned east and north to drive savagely into the German flank protecting Caen on the west.

Reservation Guarded By U. S. Marshal

Warren hunters and fishermen who in years past have enjoyed the hunting and fishing on the Cattaraugus Indian Reservation just over the state line in New York state will find their fun curtailed this coming season. For years persons friendly to the Indians hunted and fished with impunity without the formality of securing a license for the reservation. This is now all changed and a United States marshal has been assigned by the United States to patrol the reservation and see that laws relating to the care of the Indians upon the lands are not infringed upon. The population of the reservation has also grown during the past few months, as a number of Canadian Senecas have moved down into the United States and taken up their abode. Signs have been posted over the reservation and one of them eight feet inside the Pennsylvania state line near Onondaga reads as follows:

New York State Reservation Hunting, fishing and trapping are prohibited until the party has secured a valid license from the Seneca Nation of Indians. Section 218, Title 23 U. S. Code, provides a penalty of $500 for any person other than an Indian who hunts, fishes, traps or takes any peltries in treaty Indian country and provides for the forfeiture of all traps, guns and ammunition in his possession and all peltries taken.

Violators will be prosecuted. Commission of Indian Affairs Parties of Buffalo hunters who have violated the Indian game laws during the past few hunting seasons are thought to have been responsible for the posting of the lands and for placing a marshal on the reservation.

The marshal will not patrol the Complanter lands as they are the property of the Indians of the tribe and are not owned by the United States as an Indian reservation.

Plans Ready To Start Work of Remodeling

G. G. Greene, Inc., the new company to operate a manufacturing plant in this city, has received the green light to go ahead with the remodeling of the former home of the Warren Wholesale Company. This big brick, fireproof building was purchased by the Greene Company some weeks ago. It had been planned to get the remodeling under way as soon as possible and now the green light has been given for work to commence. Plans have been prepared and when the work is completed the structure will be improved in every way, modernized and fitted especially for the work to be done.

The new company will manufacture electronic appliances and parts and when in operation will employ a number of men and women. It is expected that the work of remodeling the structure will cover a span of several weeks before it is ready for the installation of machinery and placing a corps of workers at the benches.

METZGER-WRIGHT

Youngsville B.P.W. Club In Jolly Outing

Youngsville, June 14—Island Park was the scene of a merry picnic party Monday evening when members of the Youngsville Business and Professional Club enjoyed an out of doors co-operative dinner. The table was very prettily arranged with a basket of flowers as a centerpiece.

Following a splendid dinner, the new president of the club, Mrs. Rose Hubert conducted a business session in which plans were made for the way into the future. It was decided to make the July meeting also an outing meeting. At this meeting, Mrs. Hubert who is to be the club delegate to the state convention will give a report of that event which is being held this month.

At the social time which followed, informal reports were made by the members concerning the service men from this vicinity.

One mother, quoted from a recent letter from her son, now on a Pacific Island. The letter told of an outing which he and two buddies took on a free day. The jungle in this island came to the ocean without a beach. The three American lads, whose time was their own for a day, decided to cut their way into the jungle and explore a bit. All went well until they encountered an enemy and lost their way. They thought that if they could reach the sea, they could follow the coast to their camp. After eighteen difficult hours in the jungle they reached the coast. Soon they discovered that conditions were such along the coast that they could not reach their camp on foot. They climbed a tree and with a cigarette lighter signalled a passing boat and with its help reached their base.

RED CIRCLE MEETS

The Red Circle met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. H. Knapp. The president led the devotions which were followed by a short program of readings. At the business session, donations were approved for the Missionary work of the organization and for the local Service Club, which this week is sending gifts to service men of stationery. Pleasing refreshments were served out of doors to the large group present.
